

RADIATOR CONSTRUCTION

B3E011201008T08

- A cross-flow radiator with corrugated fins is used to improve cooling performance.
- The radiator tanks are made of plastic and the core is made of aluminum for weight reduction.
- Rubber-insulated mounting brackets are utilized on the underside of the radiator to decrease vibration.
-

B3E01 12T009

1	Tank
2	Rubber mounting bracket
3	Core
4	Lower radiator hose
5	Upper radiator hose